

BOY SCOUTS PRESENT AN EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

Interesting Stunts In Woodcraft And First Aids Performed, And Several Honors Conferred Upon Worthy Members

At the scout entertainment Friday evening wigwagging signaling was the first event. The message, "I came, I saw, I conquered," was given and received by Jerome Sherzer, Frank Webb and Lamar Kishlar.

The water-boiling contest was won by John Basset, time 15½ minutes. The eager figures of the boys chopping at their chunk of wood, the nursing of the lone match and coaxing of the tiny flame, the anxious watching of the water, were all enjoyed.

The tilting contest was cleverly put through. In the first, Herbert Cooney won against Floyd Collier, John Basset won against Archie Brown and then Basset won the finals against Cooney.

Lamar Kishlar stood first and Neil Gardner second in the resuscitation contest. The next involved the bandaging of an arm where an artery had been severed. Neil Gardner came first, Sylvanus Gordon, second. Neil Gardner was presented a scout knife by Black Wolf. Lamar Kishlar won honorable mention, as did likewise Sylvanus Gordon in the first aid to the injured event. Mr. Seton remarked, "They make good stuff in this part of the world and you are part of it."

Mr. Seton said there were about 300,000 tenderfeet now, about 100,000 second-class scouts and only a few thousand of first-class scouts. Into this last class, that of first class scouts, he then received Jerome Sherzer and Lamar Kishlar. The ceremony was charmingly impressive, as, after naming the requirements and receiving the statement of the boys' scout master that these had been met, Mr. Seton gave them the hand of fellowship, received them into the ranks, stated that their regalia would be furnished them and enjoined them now their duties would, not diminish, but increase.

Mr. Seton took the part of a medicine man and showed how the Indians used to rely on them to detect crime. The demonstration was most dramatic and impressive.

The fire-getting resulted in a record of one minute and 17 seconds.

The caribou dance afforded an entertaining feature.

Mr. Seton said he had no doubt this had been thought nonsense and play, but if you look further, you will see that back of the play there is something else. There is a training in observation, a study of the animals, and habits of control which all go to the making of good citizens. He stated that the scout movement has been established among the boys of fourteen nations, and spoke of the brotherhood and fellowship this must create.

RELIABLES HOLD MEETING

FLOYD DAGGETT CHOSEN TEACHER OF THE CLASS, GEORGE STRONG PRESIDENT.

The Reliable class of the Methodist Sunday school held an important meeting Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Daggett on Ballard street. About fifty enjoyed their hospitality. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, George Strong; first vice-president, Mrs. Van Patten; secretary, Mrs. Cary Davis; treasurer, Mrs. George Strong; teacher of the Reliable class, Floyd Daggett; assistant teacher, Edward Simpson.

Refreshments were served and a jolly time enjoyed throughout the evening.

CORNELIA MASHATT FILES BILL AGAINST JOHN H. DICKERSON—LAND TROUBLE

Ann Arbor, July 29.—A bill has been filed by Cornelia Mashatt against John H. Dickerson, guardian of Unice Johnson. An injunction was issued restraining him from selling the north half of lot No. 4 of the Charles McCormack subdivision in Ypsilanti. An attempt will be made to set aside a former deed.

CAMP CLOSED TODAY AFTER AN EVENTFUL WEEK

Camp Sherzer, July 29.—The Boy Scouts began breaking camp about seven o'clock this morning. They cleared up the grounds and left them in nice condition. The tents loaned by the state are at the railroad station ready to be shipped to Lansing. Those loaned by individuals have been returned to them. The articles borrowed from the stores have been returned.

Until camp was nearly broken up, it could be said that the entire week of camping with 50 inexperienced lads had been accomplished without an untoward incident. But this morning a case of curiosity met with a slight penalty. Quite innocently the Sanderson lad had brought a gas pipe cannon into camp, but on being told not to use it, he had stowed it away. This morning when the order was given to clean out the tents and empty the ticks, Norman Hand caught sight of the cannon and tried to light it with a fuse, placing it on a keg and standing back of it. His clothing caught on fire and he received a bad bruise on the lower part of his body. He was taken to Dr. Paton for medical attention. He will doubtless suffer no ill effects. Norman says he blames nobody but himself.

The conferring of the title of "Flying Fox" upon Roland Mills, who carried the message between Camp Sherzer and the Normal College so well, will take place publicly at a later date. The program reached such a length last evening that it could not be managed.

Be sure and have the Daily Press sent to you while you are away on your vacation.

FOUR WITNESSES AT LORIMER QUIZ

Ex-Senator Mason Had No Information on Case.

SAYS HE HAS POLITICAL BEE

Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln, Ill., Says He Has Formed an Opinion About Why Democrats Deserted Him.

Washington, July 29.—Four witnesses were heard by the senate committee which is investigating charges of corruption in the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois.

They were Thomas McGuire, a Chicago detective; Alfred E. McCordie of Chicago, an attorney; Ex-Senator William E. Mason and Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln, Ill., who was the Democratic candidate for the United States senatorship in 1909 against Mr. Lorimer.

Ex-Senator Mason said he had no information about the election of Senator Lorimer which would aid the committee in ascertaining whether or not improper influences had been used in the election.

"Is the political bee buzzing in your vicinity now?" asked John J. Healy, counsel for the committee.

"I cannot remember when I have been free from it," replied Mr. Mason. "I have it as bad now as ever. I regard the United States senate as the greatest office in this country in its opportunity to serve the people."

"What do you think made the fifty-three Democrats desert your candidacy and vote for the election of Mr. Lorimer?" Mr. Stringer asked.

"I could never see any reason for a Democrat voting for a Republican," said Mr. Stringer. "In view of what I know about Illinois politics, the confessions of the Democratic members that they received money for their votes and the testimony about this election I arrived at a conclusion as to what I think was the cause of it."

BOAT SINKS IN MISSISSIPPI

Steamer St. Paul Strikes Snag—All of Its 220 Passengers Safe.

Quincy, Ill., July 29.—The side wheel steamer St. Paul, carrying 220 passengers from St. Louis, Quincy and intermediate points for St. Paul, struck a snag a mile above the Quincy bridge, sinking in five feet of water. Her whistle attracted the steamer W. W. to her side to render assistance.

As the boat is resting squarely on her bottom there is no danger either to passengers or cargo. The passengers were not taken off. The Dubuque left a powerful pump on the St. Paul and with the aid of ship carpenters from this city it is hoped to float the boat and proceed to Keokuk for repairs in the drydock.

BUMPER CORN CROP COMING

Expert Declares There Will Be Average of Fifty Bushels to Acre.

Peoria, Ill., July 29.—After a 6,000 mile tour of the corn belt Oscar K. Lyle, crop scout for a large grain firm in Chicago, declared the corn throughout the central west is in better condition than usual at this season. He said it would average over fifty bushels an acre.

Lyle traveled 266 miles in an automobile through ten counties surrounding Peoria in two days. Not a single field of corn in poor condition was encountered. The recent rains "put the crop away," in the opinion of the corn expert, and it will need no more moisture to mature it.

ASK COLQUITT TO WITHDRAW

Austin, Tex., July 29.—Written demands are being made upon Governor Colquitt by ministers of the Methodist church that he withdraw his membership from that church because of his leadership for the cause of anti-prohibition in the recent state election.

It is reported that official action looking to ousting him from the church will be taken if he does not withdraw voluntarily.

SUBWAY FOR CHICAGO

Engineers Begin Work on the Plans Immediately.

Mayor Harrison Pleased with His Selection of the Men Who Are to Direct the Work.

Chicago, July 29.—City Engineer Ericson, E. C. Shankland, designing engineer, and James J. Reynolds, operating engineer, appointed by Mayor Harrison to design a subway system for Chicago, began work on their plans for the gigantic undertaking. In appointing the engineers, Mayor Harrison directed them to design a subway that would equal, if not surpass, any traction subway in the world.

Quarters have been provided for the commission in the Boreland block, and a force of assistants began work immediately. Mr. Ericson is to receive $4,000 in addition to his salary of $8,000 as city engineer. The other engineers will receive $12,000 a year each.

Mayor Harrison expressed himself pleased with the combination of knowledge and experience he had brought together in his appointments.

CHURCH IS STILL IN NEED

OSCODA PASTOR WRITES THAT MORE NECESSITIES ARE NEEDED.

The Methodist church under the direction of the Epworth League sent to Oscoda for Rev. Mr. Bird, the pastor of the Methodist church at that place to distribute among his people, six boxes, four barrels and three baskets of supplies, besides one mattress. Mr. Bird writes that though the state has done so much, there is still terrific need of necessities.

RESIDENT ON SALINE ROAD LOSES ENTIRE FLOCK OF CHICKENS

Mrs. William Jarvis, living on the Saline road, last night lost her entire flock of chickens. There were 30 hens and 20 young ones, which were taken about three this morning.

Inasmuch as the stealing of chickens is plied nightly in Ypsilanti, as well as in the country about, it is being asked by the indignant owners of flocks, why this cannot be stopped. "In the city at any rate it would seem that an end might be put to these nightly depredations," they say, yet a man on West Congress street has lately lost 84 chickens, and Carl Bowe on Washington street lost all he owned two or three nights ago, and on the Beyers farm the whole flock was cleaned out a week ago. The thieves take the entire flock in all cases, doubtless carrying them to Detroit to dispose of them. It has become a genuine hardship as well as a nuisance.

All persons are strictly forbidden to ride or coast on the side walks in cars. Any person caught violating the city ordinance in regard to this practice will be severely dealt with. M. E. GAGE, Chief of Police.

FRANCE HOPES FOR SOLUTION

Moroccan Tension Is Relieved to Some Extent.

GERMAN PROGRAM MODIFIED

Paris Papers Welcome the Speech of the British Premier as Clarifying the Situation and Hastening a Settlement.

Paris, July 28.—Greater optimism prevails at the French capital, though it was admitted that negotiations with Germany regarding the Moroccan affair remain difficult.

The statement by Premier Asquith in the British house of commons and Premier Caillaux's advice to French people to keep cool and be prudent, relieved the tension at a moment when relief was most needed, and the discrete military preparations of the government were giving rise to the apprehension that war was possible.

These preparations included orders to the cavalry to be ready for the field at the first signal, the heavy provisioning of forts on the eastern frontier by special supply trains run out of Paris at night and the mustering of all regiments to their full quota.

It is understood that Baron von Kiderlen-Waechter, the German foreign secretary, who is conducting the negotiations with Jules Cambon, French ambassador at Berlin, has modified his original program and is asking for a part instead of the whole coast of French Congo, but names other conditions which France would find difficult in accepting. Nevertheless, there is a strong feeling that a solution will be found.

The morning papers welcome Mr. Asquith's speech as clarifying the situation and hastening a settlement. The Figaro understands that Emperor William told personal friends that the Moroccan question could be settled amicably with France.

At the close of the cabinet meeting, over which President Fallieres presided, two official announcements were made. The first was that, in explaining to his colleagues the external political situation, Foreign Secretary De Selves said that the pour parlers between France and Germany were proceeding normally.

The second announcement was that the cabinet had decided on the reorganization of the army, which represents "the crowning of the military work pursued by the republic for the last forty years."

SCOUTS ATTEND LECTURE AT NORMAL IN A BODY

Mr. Seton Tells Of Scout Practices And Requirements—Traces Custom Of Raising The Hat To Women

There was hearty applause Friday afternoon when the Ypsilanti Boy Scouts marched into Normal hall and were seated in the front rows, because this lecture Ernest Thompson Seton had designed particularly for them, thought both by the token of the constant presence of the boys and the character of the subject matter, every one of the lectures had been of exceeding interest to the scouts.

Mr. Seton took up at once some of the Scout laws. "They promise to be courteous," he said. "I have generally found that discourtesy is the result of ignorance. A cowboy once refused to pass Thackeray the salt as they dined in a Pullman car, because he 'wasn't his servant.' In the same spirit a boy once refused to take off his hat to anyone. Mr. Seton told this boy the origin of the custom—that 500 years ago a man in traveling was very likely to encounter an enemy in any man he might meet. It was customary then in meeting a friend to give the signal of friendship, which was the lifting of the right hand with nothing in it. Upon approaching nearer, the men would raise their visors. The dangers of the road persisted, while the wearing of visors passed into disuse. It followed naturally that hereafter the hat was raised instead of the visor. The raising of the hat then signifies equality and respect.

"We have a law that each Scout shall do at least one kind act a day. He doesn't tell of it unless asked." Many interesting illustrations of this Mr. Seton gave. A boy when asked reported picking up a broken bottle off the road that it might not puncture wheels; another, when stopping at a hotel, had retraced his steps to turn off the gas that the owner might be saved expense; a scout had turned the mangle for his mother who took in washing; another had put on his scout uniform and marched up and down before his baby brother, whom it had given great pleasure; another had been almost asleep at night when he remembered he had done no kind act that day, but in the darkness he heard a mouse in the trap and so he got up and took the mouse out and fed it to the cat—"Which was benefited I do not pretend to say," remarked Mr. Seton.

THINK MICE STARTED FIRE

GREEN RESIDENCE FOUND IN FLAMES WHEN NEIGHBOR CALLS.

Friday evening between seven and eight o'clock, Mrs. John Green was sitting on the front porch of her home at 310 South street and her husband was working in the garden at the rear, when Mrs. Lou Green, living near, came across the street with milk. When Mrs. Green entered the house to dispose of the milk she discovered that the bedroom was in flames. She called her husband and an alarm was turned in. The department came quickly and used both chemicals and water in extinguishing the fire, as it had got such a headway before discovery.

The bedroom was completely burned out and other rooms scorched. How it could have caught when not a person was inside the house is a mystery. It is thought that possibly mice nibbling at the ends of matches may have set it.

LEADING FIGURES IN FIGHT IN PARLIAMENT TO TAKE POWER OF VETO FROM LORDS

London, July 29.—The warfare among Englishmen caused by the issues created by the house of lords veto bill has caused breaches between men long friends which probably will never be healed. Premier Asquith and David Lloyd-George have been leading the Liberal movement in favor of taking away from the lords the power to veto financial measures. Their threat to bring about, with the aid of the king, the creation of a large number of new peers if the Lords do not agree to the measure has driven Lord Lansdowne and Arthur J. Balfour into line for the measure. Lansdowne and Balfour argue that the creation of new peers would render certain the passage of a home rule bill for Ireland and other radical measures. Consequently, much against their will, they have had to surrender to Asquith's views and advise the adoption of the measure. The veto bill, originally passed by the house of commons, was amended by the lords and is now back in the commons for concurrence in the amendments. Asquith asserts that the amendments must be defeated in the lower house. The roll calls, on the questions of striking out the amendments will occur in about a week, and other bitter controversy is expected.

In comparing the American with the English scout, Mr. Seton said that in drilling and in first aid, the English surpassed the American; but if the scouts were put on separate desert islands, the American scouts would get along all right and the English scouts would be dead for the Americans are much more resourceful and are better accomplished in arts of woodcraft.

Mr. Seton's talk on scout yells was very enlightening. He believes that every scout should learn to give his own patrol yell spiritedly and correctly, and he related an incident of the Sioux, in which a group of their tribesmen were saved from death because they had learned the calls and proper responses perfectly and were not misled when the Ojibways tried to entrap them. Mr. Seton asked the Wolf patrol to rise and give their yells. With so many spectators the lads were diffident, yet tried.

Mr. Seton warmly praised the Ypsilanti camp, for it takes two weeks just to get started, he said.

In a camp he once had of 120 boys there were 40 who were so different that they seldom attempted things. He took this 40 aside and told them he was going to give them ten stunts to do and that these must be done instantly without question. Each must bring him a leaf from the sugar maple; pick a leaf of poison ivy in a sheet of paper; draw a map of North America in ten minutes; tell a story; dance; and imitate some animal. The sum total was that these 40 boys forever after lived on a higher plane than before, and were more self-reliant.

Mr. Seton spoke about the man hunt, which Roland Mills carried through so admirably here in Ypsilanti. He well remembered one man hunt in which the part of the messenger had been taken by a little fellow of ten years and who arrived at the hapless age when he has no front teeth. Three times the little fellow had come through successfully. Later the little fellow confided that he had gone and returned by way of the sewer. But the determination which he here displayed had marked him through this life. There is but one course the bearer of the message must not take in order to get through: he must not go in girls' clothes. One boy once went through in a baby carriage unsuspected. Another went in a load of hay driven by his father. Another went down to the seashore and both reached his destination and returned in a boat. If caught, the boy forfeits his life—but it may be ransomed.

Mr. Seton talked briefly on his critics. The Boston Transcript had once written a column or so against the scout movement, claiming that it turned the boys into savages. The Boston school board said it must be very important to have so much notice given it and sent a man down to the camp to investigate. Mr. Seton asked him his verdict on leaving. He said, "This is more important than you think it is. It is the most important movement which has been established since the foundation of the anti-slavery society in 1835."

Another critic had said the movement had no spiritual atmosphere. Mr. Seton had answered that in a movement which included Jews, Christians, children of seepies, etc.

"WHAT IS SOCIALISM?"

While we are considering this subject, in order to ascertain if possible what it is and what it is not, so as to remove from our own minds so much of prejudice as may be in residence there, and so exercising our faculties that they may take hold of a current problem and dispose of it on its merits, regardless of what name may be applied to it, or epithets hurled against it, it is helpful, in passing, to throw in an occasional sidelight of current thought.

Attorney-General Wickersham is reported as saying in his speech at Duluth, "We have become accustomed to the regulation of rates of transportation, but to suggest that prices of commodities be regulated by Congress seems modern and radical. Yet the principle on which the regulation of transportation rates is based is simply that, when property is used in a manner to make it of public consequence and affects the community at large, it becomes clothed with a public use and may be controlled by the public for the common good. In the early days, in some part of this country, statutes were enacted to regulate the business of millers and the rate they might charge for grinding. At that time it was a matter of public concern that every farmer should have the right to have his corn ground at a reasonable rate.

"So today, the conduct of the great commerce in staple articles among the states has become a matter of public consequence, and the courts have upheld legislation regulating it and describing some of the conditions under which it may be carried on. To require, as one of these conditions, that prices for commodities dealt in interstate commerce be reasonable only involves a new application of the same principle. Unless prices be dealt with under such a law, it would fall to reach the essential evil, for unified tactics with regard to prices have been authoritatively described to be the essence of modern monopoly."

And Judge Gary, of the United States Steel corporation, is quoted as having said a few days ago that his company "would oppose no barriers to allow the fixing of prices of industrial products."

Neither Attorney General Wickersham nor Judge Gary has ever been charged with being Socialists before, but these remarks are bringing forth from some of the ultra-reactionaries this very side. We cite these current statements of these two prominent men, uttered within the past few days, to illustrate the hold which Socialistic doctrine, so called, is seeming to have on the public mind.

there could be no religious instruction. But the following incidents he related of a little fellow who held this conversation with a rather rough man who happened to be in charge of camp one night. "Mr. Brown, mother let me come to camp if I would say my prayers every night." "Well, say them then," said Mr. Brown. "Where?" "Well, behind that tree if you want to." "I always say my prayers at mother's knee," said the little boy, timidly, "may I say them at your knee?" Mr. Brown could not say No, and before the little fellow had prayed for his father and mother and his sisters and his brothers and the camp boys and Mr. Brown himself, the rough man was in tears. Mr. Seton thought this the proper time to act, so he made this rule: When you come to camp, you do what your mother has you do at home and no one must interfere with you.

"One of the greatest charms of camp life and one which the English entirely omit, is the wonderful magic of the campfire," said Mr. Seton in closing. "The English boys get bored evenings but we in America like this time best."

THE CHOLERA SITUATION.

The Journal of the American Medical Association today has the following to say of the cholera situation:

"Notwithstanding the somewhat alarming headlines in the newspapers, regarding the presence of Asiatic cholera in the United States, there is no cause for alarm. In the first place, those in charge of the quarantine stations are thoroughly alive to their responsibility, and, consequently, there is little fear of many cases coming to this country. In addition to the usual methods for preventing those suffering with infectious diseases from landing in this country, the United States Public Health and Marine-Hospital Service has made additional regulations for the present conditions, in that all steerage passengers arriving from ports that are likely to be infected with cholera are subjected to bacteriologic examination and detention until such examination proves that they are not cholera bacillus carriers. The period of observation has also been extended from five to ten days. It should be remembered, further, that medical science has so advanced that even though the epidemic did obtain a foothold in this country, it could easily be controlled, and the individual cases managed much better than would have been the case twenty-five years ago. To repeat, there is no cause whatever for alarm."

Why She Chose the Gown.

A woman in Cherryvale, Kan., was allowed her choice between a new parlor rug and a summer gown. The Journal says that after three sleepless nights she decided on the dress. She argued: "I can darken the parlor and the rug will look all right in subdued light, and besides, hundreds of folks will see the dress who would never see the rug."

It is worse than useless to take any medicine internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by Frank Smith, Druggist.

Lighting Plant Employees at Hillsdale
Have Narrow Escape.

Hillsdale, Mich., July 29.—What nearly proved a fatal accident occurred at the municipal lighting plant. While workmen were engaged in digging a pit for a new operator, an old brick wall caved in, catching Chief Engineer Rankin and Edward Murray. They were sitting on a ledge on the opposite wall and were buried up to their knees.

Both of Rankin's legs were broken and crushed, and one may have to be amputated. Murray was badly bruised, but no bones were broken. It was half an hour before the men were freed. B. R. Cornish was digging beside the wall when it fell, but was warned in time to jump to safety, otherwise he probably would have been killed.

WOMAN KILLED BY RAM

Believed to Have Been Murdered, but Evidence Now Points to Sheep.

Muskegon, Mich., July 29.—That Mrs. Antoinette Zoli of Conklin, who was found dead in a cowshed in the rear of her farm home, was not murdered, but came to her death by being butted by a ram, is the conclusion practically arrived at by officers investigating the case.

The sheep was found in the fields, its horns bloody and a large patch of blood on the back of its head. The theory is that the ram attacked Mrs. Zoli as she ran around the house in terror and finally knocked her down. When it left her, it is thought, she managed to drag herself into the shed, where she died.

FALL KILLS FARMER

Becomes Entangled in Rope of Hay
Lifter in Barn Lofi.

Bad Axe, Mich., July 29.—Albert E. Coates, prosperous farmer, five miles northeast of here in Meade township, was instantly killed while unloading hay in his barn. He was in the loft of the barn when the hay lifting apparatus broke. His feet became entangled in the ropes and he was precipitated to the floor, thirty feet below.

He was terribly crushed and died in a few minutes. Coates was about forty years old, and is survived by a widow and four children.

SAVE TWO FROM DROWNING

Port Huron Young Men Rescue Husband and Wife.

Port Huron, Mich., July 29.—A daring rescue from drowning was effected by Gus Rodgers and Bert Allen, who succeeded in pulling Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miller from St. Clair river. Miller is a clerk in a local grocery store and he and his wife were fishing from a dock.

When Mrs. Miller attempted to cast her line she fell into the water. Her husband jumped in after her, but both had started to sink when Rodgers jumped in after them.

SLAIN ON HIS WAY TO WED

Body of Baraga Man Found in Portage Lake.

Calumet, Mich., July 29.—The body of Peter Aho of Hermann, Baraga county, was found floating in Portage lake. He had been dead but a few hours. It is believed he was murdered before being thrown into the lake.

Letters in his pockets showed Aho was probably on his way to Hancock to marry. His neck was broken and there were other marks, including those of ropes.

Broke Parole; Goes to Prison.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 29.—Frank Cole, who has been out on parole on a grand larceny charge, was sentenced to Jackson prison for one and one-half years to five years, with the recommendation of three years. He robbed the Peterson Coal company. Cole had been allowed to go to Battle Creek that he might reform, but failed to keep his promise to the judge and report.

Thrasher Whirled in Air

Saginaw, Mich., July 29.—George Burk narrowly missed instant death while working on a thrashing machine at Dice. His right hand was caught between the belt and pulley and he was whirled in the air and thrown several feet to the ground. His right shoulder was dislocated, his right collarbone fractured and his left arm and eye cut.

Cupid Depletes Teachers' Ranks.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 29.—Because so many of the teachers in the county schools married this year or resigned County School Commissioner Freeland has been forced to call a teachers' examination for Aug. 12 to fill the vacancies in the teaching ranks.

Too Hard Work Leads to Suicide.

Bellaire, Mich., July 29.—Nathan Fitzpatrick, a farmer six miles south of Bellaire, committed suicide by shooting. The act is attributed to despondency over ill-health, resulting from overwork in clearing and developing his farm in Helena township.

Young Buffalo Will Bring Clever Westerners

Each year at Cheyenne, Wyo., a celebration is given by the cowboys which they call "Pioneer's Day." Cowboys come from all parts of the West to contest with each other in riding outlaw horses, roping steers, and other hazardous pastimes familiar to the great plains. A horse known as "Old Steamboat" has been the star performer at Cheyenne among the outlaws for the past five years. "Old Steamboat" succeeded in throwing all comers until Buffalo Vernon tried issues with him. Vernon succeeded in staying on the back of the famous outlaw, but he required the attention of several surgeons after his experience with "Old Steamboat."

Buffalo Vernon is the star bronco buster with the Young Buffalo Wild West show which will exhibit in this city Thursday afternoon and night, August 10. There are 50 other cowboys with the aggregation, numbering among them Ambrose Means, the dare devil American, who, with the Buffalo Jones expedition, went into the heart of East Africa on the famous bloodless hunting trip. It was Means who actually cast the lariat that captured lions, tigers, rhinoceri, and other denizens of the African yeld, a deed of daring that has no parallel in all history.

Annie Oakley, the world famous lady rifle shot, is another star of the Young Buffalo Wild West show, who has, by her feats of skill, won international fame. Capt. Bagardus, Capt. Stevens, and Curtis Listen form a trio of marksmen the like of which has never before been gathered together with any tented amusement enterprise.

A big free street parade will be given at 10:00 on the morning of the exhibition. One of the big features of the parade is Col. Stewart and his 20 oxteam.

Surely Queen of All Hens.
A certain industrious hen, interested in the welfare of Petaluma, Cal., has gone so far in her efforts to spread the renown of the city of eggs and broilers that she recently placed four yolks in one shell. Her zealotness was discovered by a firm of egg merchants, Whitcomb & Baker.

The egg was slightly larger than normal. It looked like a regular egg until a candle gave an X-ray view of four small yolks. A hunt is still being made to locate the hen. In the same shipment were a number of other eggs containing two yolks, but the egg with the four yolks is said to break all records.

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Ypsilanti Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is the kidneys' cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to their aid. Means that urinary troubles follow quickly.

Dire distress, diabetes, Bright's disease.

Mrs. Thomas Barnum 23 Water St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "About a year ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble brought on by a heavy cold. I had such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely stoop or lift and none of the remedies I tried brought me more than temporary relief. Often it was difficult for me to get up from a sitting position on account of sharp twinges through my body. I was also troubled by painful passages of the kidney secretions. Upon using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store, I soon found relief and before long I felt like a different person." (From statement given Dec., 1906.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE.

On Dec. 16, 1908, Mrs. Barnum added: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly as I have never had any serious recurrence of kidney trouble."

Up-to-Date Street Beggars.

"Even your street beggars are up to date here in New York," said an observing out-of-town man as he tossed a nickel into the hat of a professional beggar wearing a badge "Victim of the Recent Fire." "I've never known it to fail," he continued, "that after a fire, an explosion or any other big accident there was a noticeable change in the appeals made by your street beggars. Another thing, note his shrewdness, as he doesn't specify any particular fire, but simply the recent fire. The desire to keep abreast of the times seems to be deep seated in all New Yorkers, and just after some great accident the street beggars are sure to make the most of the situation and make their appeal to the public along the latest lines."
